Pulchowk Campus is the pioneer in starting engineering education in Nepal. At present, it is one of the constituent campus of TU having status of Central Campus. It is situated at Pulchowk, at the heart of the Lalitpur Metropolitan City, which is in the close proximity to most of the government offices and other research institutions. Pulchowk Campus offered diploma level (intermediate level with three years duration) courses in various engineering disciplines since 1973 (2030 BS) which were phased out. Currently, Pulchowk Campus has been offering Bachelor's Degree courses in 7 disciplines and Master of Science courses in 21 engineering disciplines. First PhD intake was in 1997 (2054), but regular PhD admissions in various disciplines have been started from 2011. Currently, 53 scholars have been carrying PhD researches in different disciplines. It is evident that the Pulchowk Campus is playing crucial role in the preparation of qualified human resources in engineering sector, which are needed for the national development.

At present different campuses and private engineering colleges have been engaged in providing engineering education. Engineers must be able to work in the local market and at the same time they must be at par with the global standards, so that they can compete with global market and able to understand and handle latest technology. To achieve this, there must be institutions with capable human resources, research laboratories and potential students. Graduates from higher institution must have adequate knowledge and skills so that they are capable enough to solve the demand of local market, generate innovative ideas and entrepreneurial skills and at the same time capable enough to compete in the global market. From students prospective there are many campuses/colleges and subjects in engineering and can have many choices. Every year a substantive number of students are going abroad to have good quality education and employability. In this context, Quality Assurance and Accreditation (QAA) program set by the University Grant Commission (UGC), to regulate academic programs of higher academic institutions, should be implemented and the students and concerned stakeholders need to be aware of the same. We welcome the initiation taken by UGC to enhance the quality of higher education via the development of a rational approach and willing to implement it in Pulchowk Campus and seek help to implement it.

The team members of the working group highly appreciate the help, cooperation, support and contribution provided by the faculty members, staffs, head of the departments, MSc program coordinators and students whose suggestions were invaluable and included during different levels of the work.

PART III

ANALYSIS OF CRITERION – WISE INPUTS

At present, Pulchowk Campus continuously devoting to strengthen its academic, administrative and financial status. Pulchowk Campus is also aware of its strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and challenges to analyze its overall progress. The self–study assessment team has adopted strengths, weakness, opportunities and challenges (SWOC) analysis for the campus and presented below, which would be a fruitful exercise for the campus to plan its course of action.

1) Policy and Procedures

Pulchowk Campus is running under the Tribhuvan University, Institute of Engineering which is one among five institutes. IOE have a Management Committee, which is responsible for setting the policies to run and regulate IOE and Campuses under it and its activities. The committee comprises of the representatives of stakeholders, teachers, non-teaching staff, students, guardians, local government, donors, campus administration and department heads. The Dean of IOE chairs the committee and nominates a member secretary from the Assistant Deans.

The IOE formed a high level committee named "Standing Committee" that works for the overall internal quality monitoring and checks. The committee comprises of 10 members headed by the dean of IOE that include all assistant deans, campus chiefs as members, representatives of the departments and campuses are running in the campuses. Committee hold meetings to monitor and control the quality of education within the institution. Since the campus is one of the decentralized constituent campuses of Tribhuvan University that has enjoyed certain freedom to manage and run the institution, the campus is mostly guided by its dean's office in Pulchowk through the rules and regulations of the university. Apart from being dependent on the dean's office of IOE, the campus has executive authority to run campus as per rules and regulations to meet the local needs of the institution. There are specified job responsibilities of departments, units and individuals besides the specifications mentioned in the university rules and regulations.

Efforts have been undertaken for effective resource mobilization that avails in the campus. The main sources of grants are the government fund via UGC/Tribhuvan University and the students fee contribute substantially in this regard.

At the beginning of each financial year, campus prepares budget under different heads according to the need and availability of fund. The budget is sent for approval to the university authorities and TU executive council via IOE dean's office. Periodic review of the budget expense is made for optimal utilization. Internal as well as external audit is done every financial year. Thus, the available resource is optimally allocated and utilized through efficient financial resource management. The dynamic leadership of the campus chief, the active participation of the staffs, both teaching and none-teaching, in academic and administration together with effective internal coordination and monitoring by the IOE/University and UGC make it possible for the campus to achieve its goals.

All administrative bodies have the faculty representation. Thus academic and administrative planning in the institution is well coordinated. At the beginning of the academic year, various department and the members of administration scrutinize the work load and asses the need for staff recruitment and other infrastructural requirements. This is further scrutinized by the dean's office. New recruitment is carried out through a selection process satisfying the university criteria for all posts.

The institution has a self-appraisal method to evaluate the performance of the faculty in teaching and research programs. Skill up-gradation and training programs are conducted for the non-teaching staff members when required. The campus constantly organizes orientation and faculty development programs. The faculty is encouraged for research and project work leading to their academic development. Thus the management of human resource is meticulously planned and executed.
